Why join English Wedding?

It's about more than banner ads

It's about more than directory links

It's about more than being tucked away on some hidden page of a huge wedding website

It's about our platforms supporting your brand.

It's about all-singing, all-dancing home page features on a well established, top 10 UK wedding blog, with links back to your website and lovely words about your work shared on our social channels.

*Guaranteed feature opportunities

It's up to you to send us regular content.

Make notes in your calendar, plan in advance or set reminders to submit to us. Do that and we guarantee we'll publish:

- 1 feature a year - Bronze
- 4 features a year - Silver
- 12 features a year - Gold

That's more than ANY other wedding blog will offer.

Features can be product showcases, guest blogs, advice articles, new collections, award news or events. Whatever works for you to get your brand noticed!

Wedding brands who know their SEO come to English Wedding for those all-important features.

We're quite proud of this.

Diversity first

We're working hard to represent everyone on English Wedding.

We want to see and feature many more weddings with Black brides or grooms, Asian weddings, African weddings, Jewish weddings, minority ethnic weddings, LGBTQIA weddings, and weddings of couples with disabilities.

If you can submit features to support our diversity pledge, we'll be delighted to offer you reduced prices.

Independent ownership

English Wedding isn't a big money blog.

We're here to support independent, small wedding businesses.

We're looking for wedding photographers, stationery designers, florists, cake- and dressmakers, performers, planners and stylists, independent venues, wedding filmmakers and every other creative business involved in weddings.

Join us for a listing in our wedding supplier directory and we'll feature you on our home page too!

We want to champion the little businesses in the wedding industry - not the big guys.
We don't court corporate / big brand sponsorship.

Every photographer / stylist / brand who wants to feature on English Wedding is asked for a small contribution.
This gives the lovely people of the wedding industry complete control over their features.
